

How high will the temperature on the back of the photovoltaic panel be

Overview

Photovoltaic panel glass typically endures surface temperatures between 65°C to 85°C (149°F to 185°F) during peak summer conditions. But here's the kicker: Recorded desert installations hit 98°C (208°F!) Remember that time your phone shut down at the beach?

Solar panels don't get that.
