"most" vs "the most", specifically as an adverb at the end of sentence

Which one of the following sentences is the most canonical? I know most vs. the most has been explained a lot, but my doubts pertain specifically to which one to use at the end of a sentence.

The most / most

The difference between most and the most has absolutely nothing to do with whether the thing in question is number one or just in the top ten. They both mean the same thing: number one.

Most is vs most are

Most is what is called a determiner. A determiner is "a word, such as a number, article, personal pronoun, that determines (limits) the meaning of a noun phrase." Some determiners can only be
